Procurement Meercat on the 50-to-Watch list: leading US procurement portal SpendMatters recognizes Procurement for the 3rd time in a row.

Spend Matters is the leading US-based news portal and solution intelligence source for procurement and supply chain professionals, trusted by CPOs, consultants and investors. It combines ongoing procurement news coverage with in-depth analysis of procurement solution providers.

Each year the SpendMatters 50 Providers to Watch list recognizes the fast-rising companies in the procurement and supply chain market from all over the world. These are most innovative solution providers who continue to grow and develop products that propel the market forward.

“Procurement offers a suitable best-of-breed application for many mid-market to large companies that need a cost-effective and nimble solution, easily on par with many other best-of-breed providers. The solution has a modern and easy-to-use UI. It scores highest in core data management, project management, and personalization, allowing it to adapt to both organizational and user needs. It offers robust capabilities for direct spend that include SQM (APQP/PPAP, NCR, 8D,...) and Product/BoM/Materials, making it particularly suited for organizations that are looking for innovation management.” – notes Bertrand Maltaverne, SpendMatters analyst.
